

We have been learning all about our human body, naming parts inside and out. We have been applying this through our topic of people who help us, where we set up a hospital role play area and were lucky enough for Ffion's mum to share information with us on her role of first responder within the village.

