

A fabulous start to the new session as we kick-start our new topic 'All About Me'. We have been using a mirror to observe and look at all the components that are needed to make a face and applying this in many creative ways.

Our math learning this term is recognising 2d shape with a focus on circles this week. We made some circle process art and extended this activity by looking for circles in our environment when we were out and about.

