Continuing our celebrations theme, this week saw us enjoy some messy play as we used lots of different media to create our very own Scotland flag for St. Andrews day. We used some making tape to make the cross of the saltire and then went to town before peeling off for the reveal. On St. Andrews' day we tested out our baking skills by making some delicious homemade buttery shortbread. To share with our friends and family. Yum Yum! We even went to the hall for a bit of a ceilidh dance.

As part of our classroom transition time we had to use our super listening skills as Mrs Lunn delivered a short phonics session. This week's sound was "i".

By the end of the week it was all go as the children took charge of decorating our nursery Christmas tree and creating their very own wonderful Santa's workshop and post office. There certainly was very busy elves designing and creating in this area.
