Christmas fun and games this week as we composed our very own letters to Santa with our Christmas wishes. We recycled old Christmas cards, snipping and cutting out the images we chose to create a calendar for next year. After a messy ice painting activity we began to explore the ice cubes and experiment with them as we added water, placed in the sunshine, shade etc. to see how fast they would melt using the stopwatch on the phone to time the results. After our weekly phonics session in the infant classroom we had some time to play in their elf workshop where we carefully made and wrapped presents for Christmas. We spent some time out and about the village looking for signs of Christmas and using some very large pine cones decorated our very own Christmas trees. Through discussion the children identified that they would like to get better at sewing and they ended the week with a sewing activity to make an ornament to hang on their tree at home. You guys did a super job!
