

Oooh! We're now in December and Christmas is in the air. We started the week by beginning to decorate our classroom. We used our very clever fingers to thread some beads on to pipe-cleaners and then twisted them together to make the most amazing snowflakes to hang at the window. Painting a snow family scene on the glass window was also so much fun. We gathered some dry sticks in the forest for a beach activity with the whole school and demonstrated fantastic teamwork skills as we carried them back to school. Sitting around the fire before toasting marshmallows gave us the opportunity to practise and sing our Christmas show songs. Christmas jumper Day coincided with school Christmas lunch. We have begun to daily mark off the days on the calendar to all the special events happening in school this month. We began to make a special handmade felted soap gift for someone special in our family. It was slippery, bubbly fun as we lathered and adhered the felt to the soap bar.
